— OUR SPECIALITY —

THE BASQUE GIN-TONIC

The traditional British gin and tonic adapted by Basque chefs many years ago. A long drink with plenty of ice and the vibrant peel of a good lemon make the most refreshing drink after a long day in the kitchen. We chefs have made it popular and today it's the most common drink in the Basque Country.

BASQUE "SAGARDOA" CIDER

A traditional drink in the Basque Country, Sagardoa (hard cider) has been a crucial part of our history. When the old Basque whalers from the 16th and 17th centuries crossed the Atlantic heading for the coasts of Greenland, hard cider was the only drink they carried on board. It did not go bad like water and prevented the diseases common on long seafaring journeys.

BASQUE COUNTRY WINES

The Basque Country might be small yet it has an extraordinarily diverse range of soils and climates. The Cantabrian coast is the land of txakoli. Based on the local varietal known as Ondarribi Zuri, it yields young, fruity, acidic white wines with a hint of sea salt...

La Rioja Alavesa, the heart of La Rioja. With 15 tiny villages and 11,000 inhabitants, all the wine gems one could imagine are crafted here. Rugged, limey soil at the foot of the Cantabrian Mountains. Tempranillo is the main varietal. Tiny plots of vineyards, and later the wines are aged in caves dug out underground. A true treat.

Finally, the mountains of Navarra, the land of old Garnachas which hark back to memories of those serious old terroir wines of the past...

ORG Organic wine. Wine elaborated under a stand-alone vine growing method based on the optimal use of natural resources, with no artificial chemicals or genetically modified organisms (GMOs) to fertilize soils or combat pests. The result is a healthier wine with higher antioxidant properties and a more authentic taste.

BIO Biodynamic wine. Vine growing and winemaking following Rudolf Steiner's biodynamic precepts. The soil is treated as a living being, where any contribution has a direct impact on the ground, the vineyard, to pursue a balance between the vine, man, earth and stars. No wine can come from a lifeless vineyard.

NAT Natural wine. Wine made with minimum intervention in both the vineyard and the cellar without the addition of natural or artificial chemicals except for small quantities of sulphites at bottling. The grapes must be hand-picked and the wines are unfiltered. Wine becomes a faithful reflection of the land from which it was born.

WHITES

– TXAKOLI –

TXAKOLI is an extreme wine. Made from the legendary varietal Ondarribi Zuri, it is grown near the Cantabrian Sea. Difficult aging, healthy acidity and wise vinification. Unique in Europe.
